THE IMPORTANT THING TO REMEMBER ABOUT ERINDALE IS THAT WE ARE ALL EXPLORERS BUILDING SOMETHING NEW AND WITHOUT TRADITIONS.

S.A.C. Condemns The Sir. George Williams Riot

Wednesday night at the SAC meeting held here in the cafeteria the council finally passed a motion of condemnation concerning the actions of the 79 students arrested in the riot Tuesday morning.

At first all were hotly in favour of condemning the actions of the students, without question. However Steve Langdon counteracted with the statement that it appeared to him that the S.A.C. members were passing this resolution to make themselves appear white and shining in the eyes of the public.

Langdon also said that S.A.C. should adopt a statement that would express their feelings. That is, that the action of destroying the university property was stupid and unforgivable but that they understood the psychological reasons behind their action.

"Faculty and administration are to be blamed!" said Langdon. If the student's requests for discussion had been taken seriously perhaps the incident would not have ever happened.

Discussion followed Langdon's remarks and the most prominent feeling was that their action had been most detrimental to their own kind, students. Theses were destroyed, lost, and a lot of hard work nullified.

In spite of Langdon's pleas, the motion was passed and a statement of condemnation was passed.

S.A.C. Votes Against Fee Increase

Bob Burkwell, finance minister of S.A.C. made a motion on Wednesday to increase the fees of membership to that body from $12.00 per head to $12.50. The motion was defeated.

Burkwell was reported by the Varsity on Monday as considering a $2.00 hike but at the meeting, after some indecision and a prod from the other members set the mark at a compromise of 50¢.

Steve Langdon said that the budget was perfectly sound as it was and considering the $4.00 rise in fees last year it seemed unwise to raise them again.

Some of the cuts from the budget as a result of the $10,000 loss of revenue caused by the Graduate Students Union withdrawal from S.A.C. included the Debating Society, the U. of T. chorus, the Conference on Student Affairs.

Additional funds have been promised to High Schools, T-Groups, Random Magazine and to Radio Varsity to hire a full-time Director.

A Sit-In With David Blackwood

-Doug Leeies

Wednesday at noon, David Blackwood sat in an informal meeting with members of Erindale's staff and students. Mr. Blackwood is a Canadian artist of a rare breed. When asked what is the role of art in Canada, he simply stated to compare a child raised in an art and music atmosphere to one who is not. The outcome is obvious.

This concise reflection on a major aspect of life was typical of all of his comments. Mr. Blackwood stated that he was a product of his Newfoundland childhood and that he never wants to lose this identity. His art reflects the harsh simplistic life in a small fishing village and the people that inhabit it. A strong belief in the supernatural, he said, is typical of the people of the Island.

Mr. Blackwood left his home in his late teens to come to Toronto. He received his art training at the Ontario College of Art. He said that four years at the art college did little for his style as the college curriculum is too static to allow true art freedom.

When asked about his own art, he said that he would have to be fifty to be able to criticize it fairly. David Blackwood is currently teaching art in Toronto and commutes to his home down east.

With regard to the recent articles on "residences", and "apathy/intellectual bankruptcy", at Erindale.

Yes, we desperately need residences, and I agree that of necessity it may create a more scholarly community. Although, with a lack of organization such as exists now I doubt even then the change would be more than minimal, and, since most of us won't be here to enjoy "residences", I think we should face reality and do what's needed now to keep Erindale's spirit alive.

The organization lacking at present is painfully apparent in:
1. A central office for all information on all student activities-social or intellectual. (The present S.A.G.E. office does not fill this need because it's not central and rarely open.)

and 2. More people willing to take responsibility and carry it out.

To reiterate the statement I made at the "What Ails This College" meeting, "my conclusion of the student feeling at Erindale is that of U. of T. rejects". As my little boy would say, "So tough"! It's fine to sit back and longfully hope for the day when you can transfer downtown; in fact you're following in the good Christian tradition, "suffer now to live in paradise later". But, who knows, paradise may never come! If that happens think of all the time you've wasted.....!

CANADIAN CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK STUDENTS FEB. 14-17

Added to the demand by university students for greater participation in the planning of their education is the voice of social work students throughout Canada.

Students in 18 undergraduate and graduate schools of social work across the country will meet in Toronto from February 14-17 in a conference sponsored by graduate students of social work at the University of Toronto. In addition, students of social work in community colleges across Canada have been invited to attend.

Among the four hundred and fifty participants will be students of case work, group work, community organization, administration and research. Workshops at the conference will reflect their interest, not only in social work education, but in ways of organizing social action within the profession and among citizens.

The Conference will be addressed by Dr. Charles Hendry, Director of the University of Toronto School of Social Work, and by Dr. Wilson Head, Research Director of Metropolitan Toronto Social Planning Council.

Among the resource people for various workshops will be Allan Borovoy, Executive Director of the Canadian Civil Liberties Association; Dr. William Clement, psychopharmacologist at the Ontario Hospital in Toronto; Andrew Brewin New Democratic Party MP for Greenwood Riding; Sidney Katz, a newspaper columnist; Walter Gunn and Allan King, both of whom were associated with the film "Warrendale"; and Dalton Camp, former President of the Progressive Conservative Party.

Membership To S.A.C. Is An Expensive Luxury

The student body of Erindale will number almost 1,000 next year. This means our membership to S.A.C. at $12.00 per head, will approach $12,000.

For what?

The Varsity, which we could have by special arrangement with the paper, Radio Varsity (Has anyone heard it?) and a large number of downtown activities which we do not benefit from.

Paul Kochberg will be meeting with Steve Langdon, president of S.A.C. to discuss the situation on Monday, February 24. If a fair deal is not offered to Erindale, Kochberg proposes a vote by the students on the question of withdrawal.

This is a serious question to be considered by every student. It is our feeling, and the facts support it, that withdrawal is necessary to put our students money to work for our development.

Announcements

On Sunday, there will be a meeting of the Associates of Erindale Council, at 3:00 P.M. in the cafeteria. This will be an open meeting for anyone interested, and the topic of this forthcoming meeting will include the long range plans of the College spanning the next ten years.

The Erindale College Council elections are today. These students nominated, will be our reps on the committee comprised of both Faculty and Student members. Their task will be that of dealing with the problems facing our college as it stands today, and also to establish a firm foundation upon which we can build for the future. Try to meet as many of the candidates as possible before making your decision to insure that only people of the highest calibre will represent you on this important committee.

The first meeting of the E.C.C. will be held this coming Monday, February 17, here at the college. This will be the first meeting which will include the newly elected student reps, and everyone is invited to come out and find out where it's at.

Well folks, that time is rapidly approaching, and it's not the final exams we're implying this time. The S.A.G.E. Elections are only eighteen days away, what with reading week upon us and the weekends interrupting, there are only Eight campaigning days left. For all you mathematical geni out there, that means the elctions are being held on the fourth of March. Nominations are still being accepted for any of the positions on this council and can be left at the S.A.G.E. office in the Colman House at any time.

The Awards Banquet is scheduled for the eighth of March at the Constellation Hotel. The price is $4.00 a head, with all the little nicities of a hotel thrown in for free.

The English Dept. again has arranged another terrific movie for the enjoyment and benefit of the students of good old Erindale. On Monday, February 24, at 2:00 P.M. in room 257 we will be treated to the world's first free admission showing of that fairy tale starring that famous actress, the sweetheart of every unmarried mother and divorcee, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolfe."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

MY FRIEND - IF YOU CAN'T BITE - DON'T GROWL.

A New York Coffee Company sent a shipment of coffee to an account in Hamburg, Germany. En route, rats cut the coffee bags; nested in the coffee; and damaged the shipment. The shipping concern, however, sewed up the bags and sent them to their destination. Two weeks later the New York Coffee Company received the following letter from the account in Germany.

Andrew Coffee Co.,
343 West 18th Street,
New York, NEW YORK.
U. S. A.

Dear shentlemen:

Der last two pecages of koffee ve got from you vas mitt ratt schidt mixt. De koffee maybe gut enuf, but the ratt durds schpoils de trade. Ve did not see ratt schidt in der samples vitch you sent us.

It take so much time to pick der durds out from der koffee. Ve order clean koffee andt you schipt schidt mixed mitt der koffee. It was a mistake yest? Ve lik you to schipp der koffee in von sak, undt ratt schidt in von odder sak, den ve mix to suit der customer.

Write please if ve should schipp back der schidt and keep der koffee, or schipp back der koffee and keep der schidt, or schipp back der hold schidten works.

Ve vant to do ride in der matter, but ve do not like das ratt schidt business.

Judo Club

The Judo Club of Erindale College has progressed far since its inception in October of this school year. The progress has been so great that the club is now prepared to enter a fighting team in a tournament. The occasion is the Southern Ontario Judo Championships to be held in St. Catharines on March 15. Although the team will consist mainly of yellow belts the fighting experience is the main reason for the club's participation. Support of the Masses is needed!!! Mr. Bartlett has suggested that the Athletic Department will provide gas allowances for those people driving to the match. If a substantial number of students express an interest a ball can be had by all. For further information consult John Hazlewood II Arts, Eric Bow II Arts or the Judo Bulletin Board.

RETURN OF THE JONES

Yes poetry lovers everywhere, I'm back. (Cheers! Hurray!)
And now, to make up for lost time, I shall get right to the point. Here is the winner of the third prize in the poetry contest.

DEPARTURE OF THE JONES

You are probably wondering where I have been these past few weeks. (Well, Aren't you?). As you probably know, Erindale's play, Murder In The Cathedral went on a tour of the town Toronto and, since I was in the play, I went on a tour of the town Toronto too. (holy alliteration, Batman!)

Our first performance at University College was little short of disastrous, the Lady Godiva Memorial Band had planned a little performance on the steps of U.C., the remote unit of Radio Varsity was just outside the window, and the construction of the Ice House was in full swing. Becket's entrance was accented by the strains of "Mickey Mouse", courtesy of the L.G.M.B.

The second performance was a bit better but, because of the creaking stairways at U.C. it sounded as if Canterbury Cathedral had been overrun by giant termites.

From U.C. our merry troupe made its way to York University and the beautiful Burton Auditorium. I like this performance the best because half the cast forgot their lines and had to ad-lib. There must have been some sort of epidemic sweeping the York campus since, by the end of the play, most of the audience were in a coma and those that were lucky enough to survive stampeded for the doors in an effort to escape the pestilence.

If any of you people are dissatisfied with Erindale College you should make the journey out to Scarborough. I thought it was quite interesting but I wouldn't dig getting an education in a bomb shelter where the lockers are in caves and the professors are in tubes. The audience (Grade 13 English students) was quite receptive and some of the punch lines, if you can call them that, threw the spectators into thunderous fits of silence.

We wound up our tour at the original starting point, Erindale College. As the registrar keeps telling me whilst perusing my marks, "There's no place like home." The audience was good and enjoyed the play.

There are two people in the College right now who deserve 99% of the credit for this production. David Clark and Kate Hanson sweated their asses off to make this play the erratic success that it was instead of the chronic bomb that it would have been without them. If you think the play was bad blame the actors; if you thought it was excellent, blame D.C. and Kate.

Although Murder has expired, the Erindale College Player's Guild hasn't and will be back next year to roast your pork.

SPORTS

BASKETBALL

On open house night the Windigoes lost to Scarborough, 47-37. At half time the score was very close, but towards the end of the game Scarborough got a few easy baskets and Erindale had some hard-luck around the basket.

It was a fast exciting game with Sibbald getting 17-points, Shaw-9, and Cook-8 points respectively.

SCHOLARSHIP LURES ERINDALE STUDENT TO U.S.A.

Elmars Sprogis, the backbone of many teams at Erindale has left Erindale to accept a football scholarship at Trinity College, El-Paso, Texas. Term started this Wednesday and we wish him well academically and socially.

Wednesday night the basketball team missed Elmars while losing to Scarborough 47-37.

HOCKEY

Ken Luckhurst

Last week the Wendigoes beat Scarborough 2-1. This was a rough game with a few scuffles breaking out regularly. The pace was fast and the hitting hard. Goals were scored by Crecenzi and Kennedy. This marks the first time in two years we have beat Scarborough.

Wednesday night the A's kept the 'win' streak alive with a 4-1 victory over engineering. Losing 1-0 going into the second period we scored 4 unanswered goals to win skating away. Rallies came from R. R. Robb, Broadway Kin, Chylinski, and Crecenzi.

The score might have been higher except Robb & Luckhurst kept trying to shoot into the end blues instead of the net.

In this game, due to resignations the Wendigoes played with two lines.

Monday night we play first place Dentistry in a game that promises to be a thriller. Come out and support us, we need it.

In the standings the Wendigoes have moved solidly into second place ahead of Scarborough. We are now undefeated in five games.

BASKETBALL

The B-B Voll lost 51-29 to St. Mikes B's. The Windigoes were losing 31-9 at the half and without Sprogis could not regain their form by full time. Shaw had 14 points.
